Insurance Industry Financial Responsibility Technical Alert Issued August 5, 2016

DHSMV has discovered some potential network connectivity and server issues that are causing resource contingencies in our databases. We have identified, tested and are implementing a solution. However, we want you to be made aware, just in case you were to encounter any issues with our system. Please keep us informed of any issues you encounter. This will help us to determine the effectiveness of the actions taken by the department. Thank you for your continued support.
